

LOUIS STOCKIL

SPECIALISING IN: MUSICAL THEATRE | ACRO

Louis is a dynamic performer who graduated from the esteemed Arts Educational Schools London in 2014, marking the beginning of a promising career in the world of theatre.

His professional credits are a testament to his versatility and talent. Notable highlights include his performance in "RAGS in Concert" in 2014, a production that showcased his early prowess on the stage.

Louis has also left an indelible mark in various productions, including playing the role of Tom Thumb in the UK tour of "Barnum." His portrayal of Noah Claypole in 'Oliver!' at The Leicester Curve demonstrated his ability to bring complex characters to life. In the dazzling world of musicals, Louis has shone brightly, taking on roles such as Pepper in "Mamma Mia" and showcasing his acrobatic skills as an Acro Swing in the UK tour of "Miss Saigon."

His journey in theatre reached new heights when he stepped into the shoes of 'Le Fou' in Disney's beloved classic, "Beauty and the Beast." Louis' dedication, versatility, and captivating performances continue to earn him well-deserved acclaim as he forges a remarkable path in the world of entertainment.

